About

SABWMCRI

Since its establishment, Shri Atal Bihari Vajpayee Medical College and Research Institute, the second Government medical college in Bangalore, has undergone significant growth and development. Inaugurated in 2019, this institution now accommodates not only medical students but also paramedical and nursing students. It boasts affiliations with three prominent hospitals in the area: Bowring and Lady Curzon Hospital, Gosha Hospital, and Charaka Super Specialty Hospital.

What began as a government initiative to augment the availability of medical education in Bangalore has evolved into one of the premier colleges in the city. This institution is characterized by a highly experienced faculty, state-of-the-art infrastructure, and cutting-edge equipment and classrooms.

With these assets in place, the college is well on its path towards achieving even greater heights in the field of medical education and research.
